

In Life's Deep Waters

by the Very Rev. Alston B. Johnson alston@stmarkscathedral.net

I am a rock
I am an island And a rock feels no painAnd an island never cries . . .

Dear Friends -

These lyrics were like an anthem for many in a generation of the 60's and 70's; young people searching for meaning and purpose in the midst of an ever changing social fabric. What we are noticing some 40-50 years later is that being an island in the midst of the social steam is a tremendous burden for many. Loneliness and isolation have become an epidemic in some places.

I was recently searching the internet for articles about social isolation and electronic connectedness. There is a strange and paradoxical situation – we are connected in time and space with hundreds and sometimes thousands of other individuals, we still sometimes feel a crushing sense of isolation. It is like being in the midst of a candy store, an all-you-can-eat candy store, and what we are really hankering for is some meatloaf and hamburger steak. All carbs – no protein.

You can feel it on the bus, in school, at the shops: the threat of isolation, hardwired into our lives. {Deborah Orr The Guardian Dec 16, 2017}

We are losing some of the "all in it together-ness" of life; in the world of hyper-individualism, hyper-performance, hyper-self-actualization, where and when is there simply a time to be off grid and a child of God. In England, there was a year-long study on social isolation – Jo Cox Commission on Loneliness – that discovered what most of us already know: the old glue is evaporating.

The Cox report mentions social institutions that are becoming a less and less common aspect of people's daily lives – church, local pub, workplace, social club. Even schools feel like high-pressure environments rather than places where people are nurtured and coaxed through childhood.

We are substituting electronic and cyber communities for actual people and places, and for many this leads to a sense of not really being connected to anyone. One of the vocational callings of the Church at the moment is to give some a "neighborhood," a backyard, a coffee pot for folks when there seems to be no other place to go where folks know and care.

I am grateful that our congregation is embracing our ever-growing and deepening Stephen Ministry. Sometimes folks ask me about Stephen Ministry – what is it? Is it therapy? Is it mentoring? Is it a 12-step program? I tell them that it is simply companionship within the Church; it is a fulfilling of the promise that Christ gives us to walk with us through life's valleys, and it is a fulfillment of our promise to walk with one another through life's challenges.

Stephen Ministers are folks who have generally, not always, but generally taken a turn swimming in the deep waters of life. They do not have all the answers, but they have answered a particular call to be "present" to others who find themselves in life's deep water. They are also committed to the holiness and confidentiality of individual experience; our story remains our story.

"Stephen Ministers are laypeople—Christian men and women—trained to provide one-to-one care to people experiencing a difficult time in life, such as grief, divorce, job loss, chronic or terminal illness, relocation, or separation due to military deployment. Stephen Ministers come from all walks of life. Their commonality? A passion for bringing Christ's love and care to people during a time of need. Since 1975, more than 600,000 people from more than 13,000 congregations and other organizations have been trained as Stephen Ministers."

In the days ahead please keep the ministry of our St. Mark's Stephen Ministry Team in mind for friends and family, perhaps yourself, as an available "lifeline" should loneliness and isolation descend in the midst of life's demands. Although we all have the right to be an island, it is not necessary, nor is it something that Jesus ever recommends to those who follow Him.

Blessings and Godspeed Alston Johnson, Dean

St. Mark's EYC News

Are you someone who likes to debate? In high school, I liked to debate. In fact, I remember in U.S. Government class, there was a project where we each had to write a bill and argue it before the class. I wrote a bill to abolish the Electoral College, and really got into arguing my points (that was of course about 15 years ago, and I have switched sides on the issue, maybe in the future I will switch again).

I mention this because there is a debate camp every Summer. Of course, it isn't a political debate camp. At the University of the South in Sewanee, there is a weeklong camp titled Summa open to people entering 9th-12th grades. It is a theological debate camp where students learn how to critically and creatively build on their faith and to take a position, from a faith standpoint, on an ethical issue. Through the camp, one develops the skills to explore faith in relation to these issues, express oneself clearly, and to argue lovingly- just as the Bible tells us to "speak truth in love" (Ephesians 4:15). If you are currently in 8th through 11th grade, and are interested in this this Summer, please let me know. Cost details and more information on the camp can be found on the following link: http://summa.sewanee.edu/camp-2019/

St. Mark's EYC can assist with any costs of the camp. Please discuss this with Fr. Drew to determine how much St. Mark's will contribute toward the camp.

Also, we are getting excited for our upcoming second Spring break trip to Mo Ranch in Hunt, TX. We had a great trip last year. We will be leaving on March 24th and coming back on March 29th. Please contact me if you are interested in going this year and/or would like further information and cost details of the trip. The following is what one of our EYC high schoolers thought about our trip last year:

"Mo Ranch had to have been one of the best trips I have ever been on. All the water activities were the best like the water slide, fishing, swimming, and canoeing. It was fun to go see all the places in the area and to go eat all different types of restaurants. There were so many places to go to and pray. The views were the most beautiful thing about Mo Ranch. Mo Ranch was one of the most fun and relaxing trips I have ever been on. I can't wait to go again."

Cathedral School News

By Dr. Chris Carter ccarter@stmarksschool.com

One of the great joys of leading a parish day school such as St. Mark's is the opportunity for interaction and collaboration between school and church. Many parishioners may not realize how involved Cathedral clergy and staff are in the school. In many ways throughout our week and year, our students and families benefit through the ministry of those whose primary work is in the Cathedral.

Throughout the week each division of the school has its own age-appropriate chapel service with Chaplain Judy Kane or myself as the officiant, but every Friday the Lower and Middle Schools have Chapel together in the Cathedral. Family Chapel is an important tradition and an anchor of our Episcopal identity. Cathedral clergy always officiate at Family Chapel and usually preach. Fr. Drew is there most Fridays but Fr. Thomas and Dean Johnson also rotate in. On Fridays also, Canon for Cathedral Music Bryan Mitnaul plays the organ and leads our school choir of 5th and 6th graders. Canon Mitnaul works with the choir every Wednesday. It is truly a blessing to have his musical skills enriching our worship and inspiring our students.

In addition to his time in Chapel, Fr. Drew is highly involved with Middle School students. He leads a Bible study on Wednesday mornings, "Biscuits and Bibles," and teaches confirmation class, "Intro to the Episcopal Church" as an elective for 8th graders. Dean Johnson and Fr. Thomas sometimes guest teach in that class and are always available for pastoral purposes and the incarnational ministry of being with us throughout the day.

Other Cathedral staff members contributions to the school are perhaps less visible but no less important. Bess Maxwell makes our bulletins for Chapel each liturgical season. Ora McClinton helps clean and monitor the Parish Hall for lunch every day. And of course facilities manager John Scheel and Mark Deverts keep everything running efficiently!

In these and so many other ways we in the school are blessed and enriched by our relationship with the Cathedral. Thanks be to God!

February 1978: The Great Masterpiece Theatre series presents Requiem Opus 9 by Maurice Durufle, conducted by William Teague and featuring the Shreveport Symphony and the choirs of St. Mark's, 1st Presbyterian, and 1st Methodist.

February 1989: On February 3rd, the Shreveport Convocation of the Diocese of Western Louisiana held a choral event

Gerre Hancock, guest conductor

Let All The World. The theme of the service was to "trace in word and music the progression of the Gospel from Christ's Great Commission to the first ministrations of the Gospel in Northwest Louisiana." Modeled after a Lessons and Carols type of service, this event commemorated 2,000 years' worth of church history by having a hymn and a reading based on each historical event showcased in the upper level stained glass windows in the Cathedral. The choir and orchestra were conducted by Dr. Gerre Hancock of St. Thomas Church in New York City. The readers were comprised from different clergy from around the Shreveport Convocation.

February 1997: A look at a Sunday bulletin from February 9th shows several interesting Adult Sunday School classes. At 8:45 am there was a Lectionary Bible Class in Room 103 of the Ministry Center taught by Tom Watts, which was a Bible study on the Scripture readings of the day. At 11:10 am you could attend a class in Room 101 & 103 (so the room was opened up) titled The Feminine Face of God taught by Gelinda Viviano of St. Jude's Catholic Church in Bossier City. The fifth session was this day and focus was on how "our images of God play out in our lives." Also at 11:10 am there was a class titled The Adult Journey taught by John Bennet Waters in Room 102 & 104, and a Bible Study on the Book of Genesis with Canon George Gennuso.

Oblationers Needed

Our Hospitality Committee invites parishioners (families, adult singles, siblings, friends) to serve as oblationers (gift bearers) at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday service. This is a meaningful way to serve the faith community. For more information please contact Bonnie Dubin at bdubin@wkhs.com

The next Ale & the Almighty will take place on Tuesday, February 26, 7:00-9:00 pm at Frank's Napoletana Pizza. St. Mark's member Dr. Sanders Hearne will lead a discussion on things that can help us on our spiritual journey and a talk a little about his own walk in faith.

Please join us!
