Thoughts from the Dean and the Stewardship Team

The stewardship of Jesus comes into sharp focus in the 17th chapter of John, his great intercessory prayer. Jesus knew that he would be crucified on the morrow ... that his earthly life was at an end. He felt that he must, in prayer, render an account of his stewardship. The question put by every "boss" is: "What have you done with what I put in your hands?" Jesus was no ordinary employee, but he was a responsible steward.
